Diane Nichols was born and raised in San Francisco.

As an early Baby Boomer who lived in the Haight Ashbury when her generation came into flower power, she has used her comedy to chronicle their adventures and struggles to accept growing older. "We thought we would change the world. Our mantra was, 'Question Authority' and it still is, only now it's, "Excuse me, are you the manager here? No one is waiting on me!"

Diane has appeared on The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson and Jay Leno, David Letterman, multiple times on "Merv Griffin", "Evening At The Improv" and "Politically Incorrect" with Bill Maher. Her performance on HBO's "Women Of The Night" led to many national TV appearances and dozens of local morning shows throughout America, Canada, Denmark and Sweden.

Newsweek Magazine called Diane, "the heroine of the 9 to 5 crowd" and the Desert Theatre League awarded her a prestigious "Desert Palm" for her comedy.

Keith Ross Nelson has been making people laugh for a quarter of a century. He has appeared on Entertainment Tonight, Hulu's Comedy Time, Evening at the Improv, and is a past winner of the Portland Comedy Competition.

His fruitful career and a knack for witty commentary on everyday things has allowed him to share his talent and put smiles on people's faces all over the world.

In addition to being a great comedian, Keith is also director, co-writer and star of the TV series, Electives. He has starred in two well-received independent films, Mobsters and Mormons and The R.M.

Keith is also a very talented athlete who finished second in the World High Jumping Championships in 1998 and first in three National Championships. He held the Masters High Jump record in his age group for seven years (2000-2007), was ranked #1 in 2000 for outdoor high-jumping and in 2006 for indoor high-jumping.

Whether on stage, TV or a field next to a vertical bar, this Kung Fu Black Belt was born to perform!

Semana Santa 2018 in Mazatlán

Spend Easter Week / Semana Santa in Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico!

Sunday March 25 - Monday April 2, 2018

Mazatlan is in the very top group of Semana Santa / Easter Week beach destinations in Mexico -- the others being Acapulco, Cancun, Huatulco, Los Cabos, Puerto Vallarta and Veracruz -- and many would argue that it is uniquely sophisticated because it is the only city on the list that is both a colonial gem and a beach town.

In 2018, Semana Santa / Easter Week in Mazatlan runs from Sunday March 25th (Domingo de Ramos) until Monday April 2nd (Lunes de Pascua).

Almost all cities and towns in Mexico have public observances of Easter during the two-week period that starts on Palm Sunday and extends at least until Easter Sunday and, in some locales, into the following week. Mazatlan is no different, offering a full range of Catholic and Protestant Christian celebration for the observant.

Celebration of Easter Week / Semana Santa in Mazatlan is dominated by the Catholic faith, and as with most Catholic traditions in Mexico, the religious celebrations related to Holy Week and Easter are based on the Roman Catholic calendar inherited from the Spanish, with Holy Week preceded by Lent and Ash Wednesday, which are themselves preceded by Carnival.

Mazatlán Moto Week 2018

Semana Internacional de la Moto 2018 in Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico!

Wednesday April 4 - Sunday April 8, 2018

International Motorcycle Week in Mazatlan -- formally, Semana Internacional de la Moto Mazatlan -- is one of the bigger bike rallies anywhere in the world, and arguably the most fun!

mazatlantoday.net

YOUR BEST ONLINE MAZATLAN INFORMATION RESOURCES

Held annually since 1995, Semana Internacional de la Moto Mazatlan takes place the week after Easter, in 2018 from from Wednesday April 4 until Sunday April 8. The rally draws over 20,000 bikers from around the world, and is an important highlight of early Spring cultural events in Mazatlan.

International Motorcycle Week Mazatlan is open to all, motorcyclist or non-motorcyclist.

Representatives of the Mazatlan Motorcycle Club and local bikers with extensive local knowledge are eager to provide help and information to visiting bikers and the general public alike.

Club Rivalry is completely absent at Moto Week Mazatlan, and every motorcycle club and individual motorcyclist participating is welcome to proudly display their Colors in an inclusive environment of camaraderie and mutual respect.
